SUPERVISORS OUTLINE NEEDED LEGISLATION ON CITY MATTERS

Important changes in existing laws or new laws are urged by the special committee on legislation of the board of supervisors appointed by Mayor Lane.

A summary of what the committee desires is given briefly as follows:

1. Joint resolution or bill to appropriate $14,000 out of Auwalimu road fund or the current revenue to improve Luso street and certain minor roads or lanes thus far omitted from the street construction scheme of the territory in Auwalimu section.

2. Joint resolution or bill to appropriate not to exceed $20,000 for the improvement of Allen street under the principle of the frontage tax law.

3. Amendments wanted to the frontage tax laws: (a) To enable the city and county to issue bonds for its share of cost of improvement when it assumes a share in the case of main thoroughfares, with the same period of payment that is allowed private owners of property benefited and to provide for payment of such bonds; (b) To subject the territory to assessment for its property benefited by street improvement and the opening of new streets; (c) To restrict the veto power of owners now existing, making it depend on a showing in court or before arbitrators that the proposed assessment is exorbitant or inequitable.

4. Amend the law transferring the water and sewer works to the city and county, so that the owners of any new residence tract shall, before selling any lots therein, lay water and sewer mains throughout the tract, leaving to the city and county the laying of mains to the tract. This is now the practice in mainland cities, and is a good one. It merely makes the buyer of a lot pay his "frontage" or "area" tax for such improvements as part of the purchase price, and there's an end on it.

5. Amend school building law to provide that estimates for schoolhouses in any calendar year shall be prepared by the board of education on or before December 31 of the previous year, with proper limitation in amount and subject to revision by the same body from time to time during the year for which the estimates are made, without, however, increasing the total of such estimates.

6. Amend school expenditures law to allot more money for maintenance of buildings and grounds, trimming cost of construction if necessary for that purpose.

7. Enabling bill or resolution to authorize the Board of Supervisors to reimburse its general fund $2500 for school carpenter shop out of unexpended balance in building fund over from 1914.

Change in Finances.

8. Amend financial provisions for city and county by abolishing cash basis fund and restoring the principle of the former arrangement whereby the territory made advances to the city and county between regular payments when there was money in the treasury and due the city and county. Substitute for "permanent improvements" in provision for allotting funds for assessment to "public services and permanent improvements," as at present the phrase is too restrictive for handling the needs and emergencies of a growing city.

9. Relief of pressure of old water and sewer debt, as promised by Senator Castle in his campaign.

10. Instruct the executive to convey to the city and county a suitable piece of land for a cemetery for the indigent dead; also a site or quarters for an emergency hospital.

11. Obtain legislation to place chauffeurs under, say, $5000 bonds against injuries from their culpable conduct or acts.

12. As the municipality maintains fire protection, receipts of license fees from insurance agents and companies ought to go to the city and county treasury. Also to the list of those paying business licenses should be added contractors.

13. Attitude of committee on pending bills: H. B. 71, public shows, oppose; should be under municipal jurisdiction. H. B. 49, pay of jurors, if added to present county burden of court expenses, oppose. H. B. 22, fixing license to sell milk, belongs to county; oppose. H. B. 20, school tax, approve. H. B. 18, no license unless taxes paid, approve. H. B. 14, repeal civil service; oppose; prefer amendment where necessary. H. B. 6, schools; approve. H. B. 5, assessments, see suggestions No. 8. H. B. 65, repeal frontage tax; oppose; want amendments as above (see 3). H. B. 68, repeal circuit court receipts and expenses law 1911; wish to discuss.

ADJUTANT-GEN. COLE COMMENDS COERCIVE MILITARY TRAINING

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless.]
BOSTON, Mass., March 8.—Adj. Gen. Cole of the Massachusetts state militia, in his annual report, made public on Saturday, recommends that a system of compulsory military training in the militia of the state be adopted in Massachusetts.

He recommends, as a means for efficiency, that the federal government raise and equip the militia, while the state trains and supports it. "Our country is in a woeful state of unpreparedness, should we suffer an attack from any first or even second class nation," says the adjutant-general, "and only a federalized militia will provide an effective army of citizen soldiers, to spring to the aid of the nation in an emergency."

MEXICAN BORDER PATROLLED BY U. S. TROOPERS

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 8.—Two detachments of American cavalry are now patrolling the border here, ready to act in the event of an emergency, hints of which have reached the troops and renewed their activities. Maj. Gen. Funston is here on an inspection tour.

A denial has reached here of the report that Villa is dead and buried in Durango. "Villa is at his headquarters at Guadalupe," says his agent Llorente, "and from his headquarters he will soon lead his army for an attack upon Tampico."

According to advices, the Carranza attack upon the Villa positions at Monterey are proceeding vigorously, the fighting being carried on at six different points, with heavy artillery engaged.

Carranza's hold upon Piedras Negras is weakening, say the despatches, and the evacuation of that section is imminent. The Villa forces are moving south, the commander having forwarded a request to the state department at Washington that he be allowed to send his wounded across the American line for safety.

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless.]

TOKIO, Japan, March 6.—Seemingly as if by miracle, 1st Lieut. Adachi and 2nd Lieut. Takebe, officers of the Oihama naval aviation station near here, were saved from a watery grave today, following the wrecking of a hydroplane in which the two officers were driving in company with a sailor who is believed to have been lost.

Though carried down into the ocean depths with the wreckage of their machine and caught in wire entanglements, brother aviators who witnessed the disaster hastened to the rescue, dove to the rescue of their comrades, released them from their underwater imprisonment, bore the unconscious forms to the shore where by application of artificial respiration both officers were restored to life though apparently died when brought to land.

WOMAN MISSIONARY WRITES OF BAD TRAIN WRECK IN MEXICO

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless.]
